Mr. E. Wilson, formerly a merchan enjoying the warm air and genial sun- of Salina-a partner of Ober's, was in town the first of the week, receiv Col. Phillips the lot north of the John friends. He now has a cattle ranche, some sixty miles south of Caldwell, Ks., and is prospering handsomely. He says he don't expect to live there always, but must in some way or other "make a living." He is looking well, and evidently is happy and contented

Mr. James Sanborn states that his 'wood lot" on the Smaky Hill, from which he gets the supply for his town yards, originally consisted of 73 acres. He and his partner, Mr. Geo. Benfield. had expected to clear the lot of timber this year, but were unable to employ enough wood-choppers. He states that he still has enough growing timber on this lot to supply the town demand for next year.

The Independent says that the politicians of Saline county who name the appointment of Cunningham are entirely serene, while the other portion that were not consulted or conciliated are mad. The Independent might have said, too, that those who are now so serene and friendly to Hanback, threatened to "bust h-l out of Hanback" if he had stuck to the Wagstaff appointment. So Hanback seems to hold what friends he has by by a very precarious tenure.

The Hook and Ladder boys have recently been "trimming up" in good shape. They have purchased new blue-black" caps, with gilt wreathes enclosing "No. I," and white belts with raised letters in blue. They will make a public parade on Washington's birthday. From the new engine house now floats a fine new streamer which they late purchased in St. Louis. On it is the inscription "Hook and Ladder Co., No. 1." The boys are entitled to much credit for their efforts to make a "presentable appearance."

Our township election was the most quiet of any that we ever attended in Kansas. We think that Kansas. We think that we have elected an able and efficient township board, and one that will give general satisfaction. The question of voting bonds, in aid of the new railroad through this county, is being pretty thoroughly discussed, and I would advise the friends of that measure not to go to sleep in fancied security, thinking that the bonds are bound to carry, for if we read the writing on the wall correctly, it will require con-
